PEOPLE'S SOVIETS IN BULGARIA -- Sofia, Novo Vreme, May 53

The people's soviets [elected on 14 December 1952] include 5,905 blue-collar workers, 29,348 farmers, 19,496 white-collar workers, and 4,887 scientists, artists, householders, artisans, etc. Of the 279 deputies of the Sofia Urban People's Soviet, 59 are blue-collar workers, 89 are white-collar workers, 37 are social and political figures, 16 are scientists and artists, 5 are farmers, 6 are householders, and 37 are of various professions.

Thus far, over 65,000 persons have been incorporated in the work of permanent commissions (postoyanna komisiya) attached to people's soviets. The success in the work of people's soviets depends greatly on the effort of these commissions.

The Law on People's Soviets went into effect in February 1948; the new Law on People's Soviets became effective in 1951.
